

Irish Lecture Series

Concordia Irish Studies

Presents

A LECTURE BY

MAUREEN O. MURPHY

HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY, NEW YORK

ON

TEACHING THE GREAT IRISH FAMINE

DATE: OCTOBER 3, 2002

TIME: 8:30 PM

PLACE: HALL BUILDING, H-411

ADMISSION: FREE

INFORMATION: 848-8711

Dr. Murphy is an accomplished and respected author and researcher. Her books, articles and papers span the broad spectrum of Irish folklore and literature, Irish and Irish-American history, political science and literature written in Irish. She has developed a curriculum on the Great Irish Famine for the New York Department of Education. Dr. Murphy is currently completing a book about Irish domestic servants, Hope from the Ocean.